

Collaborative Hope: Institutional and Individual Visions

Saturday, February 23, 2019
9:00 a.m. to 1:45 p.m.
Northway Christian Church, Dallas

The quality and depth of our relationships with God, with one another, with ourselves and with the institutions of which we are a part point to the qualities of hope that can sustain and nurture us in hard times. Yet, it is not only the relationships around us that are important, but the way in which we join the actual experiences of hope-less-ness can also become life-giving and life-changing. This workshop will wrestle with understandings of hope, particularly as hope is embodied in our individual and institutional lives.

Joretta Marshall,
Executive Vice President and Dean and
Professor of Pastoral Theology and Care,
Brite Divinity School, Fort Worth, Texas

Prior to joining the faculty at Brite, Joretta Marshall taught at Vanderbilt University Divinity School, Iliff School of Theology, and Eden Seminary, where she was also Academic Dean.
